SUPPLY OF PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERING SERVICES AS LICENSED CORPORATIONS OR PARTNERSHIPS

The Professional Engineers Act provides for PEs to form limited corporations, unlimited corporations, multi-disciplinary partnerships and limited liability partnerships with the objective to supply or offer to supply PE services in the prescribed branches of engineering. It has been brought to PEB's attention that a small number of the aforementioned corporations or partnerships have not obtained the necessary licences.

2 I would like to highlight that if a corporation or partnership as mentioned above intends to supply or offer to supply professional engineering services in the prescribed branches of engineering, it is required to be licensed by PEB. Failure to obtain a licence would result in a contravention of section 10(5)(c) of the Act.

3 Notwithstanding that, a PE with a valid practising certificate may supply or offer to supply professional engineering services in the prescribed branches of engineering as a sole proprietor or as a partner of a partnership consisting wholly of PE without having to apply for a license.

Yours faithfully
